

Noel Alexander

Noel Alexander, longtime owner and breeder, a native of Monticello, Indiana, has been involved in Quarter Horse racing in and around Indiana for 60 years. He competed at the smaller tracks in Indiana, including Wabash Valley Downs in Terre Haute and the Muncie Fairgrounds, before the implementation of pari-mutuel Quarter Horse racing in 1997 at Hoosier Park. Running under the farm's name of DNA Quarter Horses, Alexander has had a lot of success over the years at Indiana Grand. He is currently ranked among the top 20 all-time leading owners at the track.
